The pictures above depict how digital technologies and devices have been creating an impact in the whole world since its evolution. The first picture portrays the situation before technology advancement and the second picture represents the current situation where technology is the key influencer.

In the first picture, we see members of a family are in outing and they all are enjoying the picnic and having interaction with each other. There is no presence of technology or technical devices. Each of them is enjoying in nature and communicating with each other. These are strengthening their bonding and keeping family united. Besides, from the picture it is also seen that they all are happy and having fun in open and free space. Due to this their overall mental and physical health is also better.

On the other hand, in the second image, we can see the current situation. Influence and presence of technology and technical devices has reduced the interaction and mutual bonding among members of family. The picture is of a birthday event of a member of the family. In such an event, everyone is busy with their own technical device and virtual world. In attempts to communicate with the outer world, they have forgotten their own family. It seems that the celebration of birthday is just a show here; no one is interested to celebrate it properly and wish the person. Instead, they are deeply absorbed in virtual world. As a result, it is affecting both their physical and mental development.
